Worth It-AppAdvice.com Jan 11, 2016 Version 2.0.2 - General architecture support for older devices (32-bit support)- Multilingual support - Debugging and improvements Overall, this is a great game. I love the simplicity, gameplay and sound of graphics. The only reason I give it four stars is the lack of multiplayer support. My only suggestion would be to add local multiplayer support. However, I wouldn't recommend adding online multiplayer as it would be a little too hect. I think this game is absolutely awesome and it was fun to play. It's also an improvement from Super Mega Worm Lite, as Super Mega Worm Lite crashes every time I stop a time attack, but does not happen full version. I also have Super Mega Worm vs Santa. I think that's even better. Why not update the screen size ratio of new iPhones. Why is every word in the game replaced by ARIAL? The developerWormax.io - free browser-based multiplayer Welcome to the world of Wormax, a fascinating multiplayer online action game where you fight for valuable food against other players in real time! Wormax.io is a modern remake of the classic Snake. However, here, instead of your own back and walls, you will encounter hundreds of thousands of cunning worms doing their best to eat both your food and you. Therefore, you need to be careful, because the sly inhabitants of Worm Arena stop for nothing to get mass and come to the peaks. Make sure you don't come across any other worm, avoid encountering giants that can trap you in circles, don't lose your mind when jumping into its thick and always be vigilant - these are basically the guiding principles that will help you make your carpet huge and take your place Wormax.io. When exploring the map, pick up the boosters (magnets, mass protection, health, telescopes and toxic ones - you can find detailed information about them in the entanbook). Thanks to the bonuses they give you, you can grow your worm faster. Also make sure you use super skills (acceleration, stop and transparency). New records come closer when you come to the Store, where you can use losing points to update worms. Worms online give you lots of fun and a large dose of adrenaline, you'll enjoy interactivity, dynamics, eye-catching graphics. The game was first released to Apple's iOS in August 2010. [1] From then on they are design os X version[2] of the game. Players in the game The great death mat Wojira sent by Mother Nature to destroy mankind. As players progress through the game, their worm can grow and develop new powers. The dead Pixel has supported Super Mega Worm with free updates and a Christmas version of a game called Super Mega Worm vs Santa released on December 14, 2010[4] The game adopts a retro video game style in its audio design and graphics. American DJ Diamond Del Rio has also remixed the game's theme song. Super Mega Worm in Super Mega Worm's gameplay, the player moves the worm underground and causes it to explode through the surface and land on humans, animals and man-made machines destroy them. To keep the worm above ground, the player can land on objects such as cars, tanks and helicopters that bounce off them into the air. It is possible for players to bounce away from many items in a row by building a combination, resulting in a higher score. For each item destroyed, a multiplier has been obtained to help increase the player's score. The health of the worm deteriorates as the game progresses to combat this, the player can supplement it by eating animals that roam above the ground. In order for a player to progress to the next level, you need to eat a certain number of people who grow at all levels. As the player progresses through the levels, they can gain the power to help them achieve the goal, this also affects the magnifying of the worm. The power supplies that the player has access to consist of speed increasers, fizzy projectiles fired from the mouths of worms, and an electromagnetic pulse that shuts down all machines around the worm. [1] There are three ways a player can control the worm. The first with the help of a slider, the second by tilting the iPhone and finally using the D-Pad, which was added through a patch. [5] The additional material released for the game, Mecha Wojjira, allows the player to use a new playable character with new skin and some new features such as; does not starve; infinite death ray; missile positioning; instant space jump and special theme song. The second game was also released as Super Mega Worm Vs Santa, which adds 15 levels, the boss's battle with Santa, some new items, 3 new talents and 2 new game modes. [6] Development Since the first release of Super Mega Worm on August 26, 2010[1], it has undergone various updates to improve performance and add new features. Release Super Mega Worm was originally released for iOS on August 26, 2010. [1] Over time, it has been given many updates that have added features such as new control systems. Originally, the game could only be played with a slider at the bottom of the screen, which either caused the worm to move up or down, but can now be controlled on the screen with a D pad or tilting the accelerometer. The game now also supports the iPad gaming unit, iCade. [7] Updates have also increased achievements that although Apple's Game Center, and made the game a universal app, which means that it can use on both iPhone/iPod touch and iPad without the user being required to purchase two separate apps. [5] The recently deceased Pixel has introduced 'Mecha Wojjira' paid additional material from both the original game and the Christmas version. This paid update gives the player a more efficient worm and an extra piece. The additional material became available through the app store for $0.99. [6] To celebrate the release of its new game, Recess Riot, the Deceased Pixel made super mega worm for a limited time free during October 2012. [8] Reception Super Mega WormAggregate scoreAggregatorScoreMetacriticiOS: 74% (based on 10 critics)[9]Rating scoreSkoreIGNiOS: 8.0/10[1] The iOS version of Super Mega Worm has generally received mixed reviews from review sites. While IGN's Levi Buchanan said It's absolutely bizarre – humor and WTF scenarios are really fun – but unlike so many other weird games, Super Mega Worm is actually fun to play for more than five minutes. [1] Slidetoplay's Chris Reed also notes that it doesn't have much, but its charm and high ridiculousness keep you smiling all the way through. [5] Slidetoplay also included Super Mega Worm at number 34 in the list of the top 50 iPhone games of 2010. They called it pure kitschy fun, but also mentioned that it doesn't have much, but its charm and high ridiculousness keep you smiling all the way through. [10] In addition, Jon Jordan of Pocket Gamer notes that despite the old skool charms and interesting controls, Super Mega Worm doesn't quite live with its world conquering destructive tendencies. [11] 'Super Mega Worm' was also recommended as an old-school game in Joystiq's Holiday Buyer's Guide of App Store Games[12] Jeff Cannata also appeared on his weekly podcast Weekend Confirmed.
